REMAINS OF JAS. BRODIE LAID TO REST IN QUEEN'S LAWN

Prominent men and Town and County Officials Attend Last Obsequies Over a Faithful Servant

BORN IN WEST INDIES

Deceased was a man of Marked Ability and Great Mind—Came to Grimsby as a School Teacher in 1874

It was a large and representative assemblage of people that attended the last obsequies over a true and faithful servant on Friday afternoon last when the remains of Mr. James Lawson Brodie, GRIMSBY'S highly respected official was laid peacefully to rest in Queen's Lawn Cemetery, the beautiful God's Acre of his own making.

Town and County officials from different parts of Lincoln and West-ward were in attendance to pay their last respects to a departed brother, as were men well known throughout the district in public and commercial life.

Service was conducted at the house and grave by the Rev. T. Radcliffe of the Baptist Church.

The pall-bearers were the municipal officers of GRIMSBY, Reeve Farwell, Councillors W. F. Randall, H. Hillier, H. H. Marsh, A. B. Bourne and Clerk C. H. Bromley.

The floral tributes were large and most beautiful. Among the most prominent of the floral offerings were a casket from the Municipality of the Village of GRIMSBY and a large Anchor from Councillor Hillier, Chairman of the Cemetery Board.

Lived in Grimsby for 43 Years
The late James Brodie had been connected with the educational, literary and municipal affairs of GRIMSBY for nearly half a century. He had resided in GRIMSBY for over forty-three years, coming here in 1874 to take the principalship of the public school, and from that time until the time of his death he was closely connected with the village institutions. Besides being principal of the public school for eight years he occupied the position of librarian for nearly thirty years and the position of clerk and treasurer for about the same time while his position as superintendent of the Queen's Lawn Cemetery dated from the opening of the cemetery in 1897, over twenty years ago.

Born in the West Indies
The late James Brodie was born in Port of Spain, Trinidad Islands, in the West Indies, and was the son of a Scotch Presbyterian missionary. He had four brothers, Charles and George, died in Trinidad some time ago and the other two, Robert and Ballantyne, are still living, one in Scotland and the other in England. His sister was Mrs. McParlane, of Trinidad.

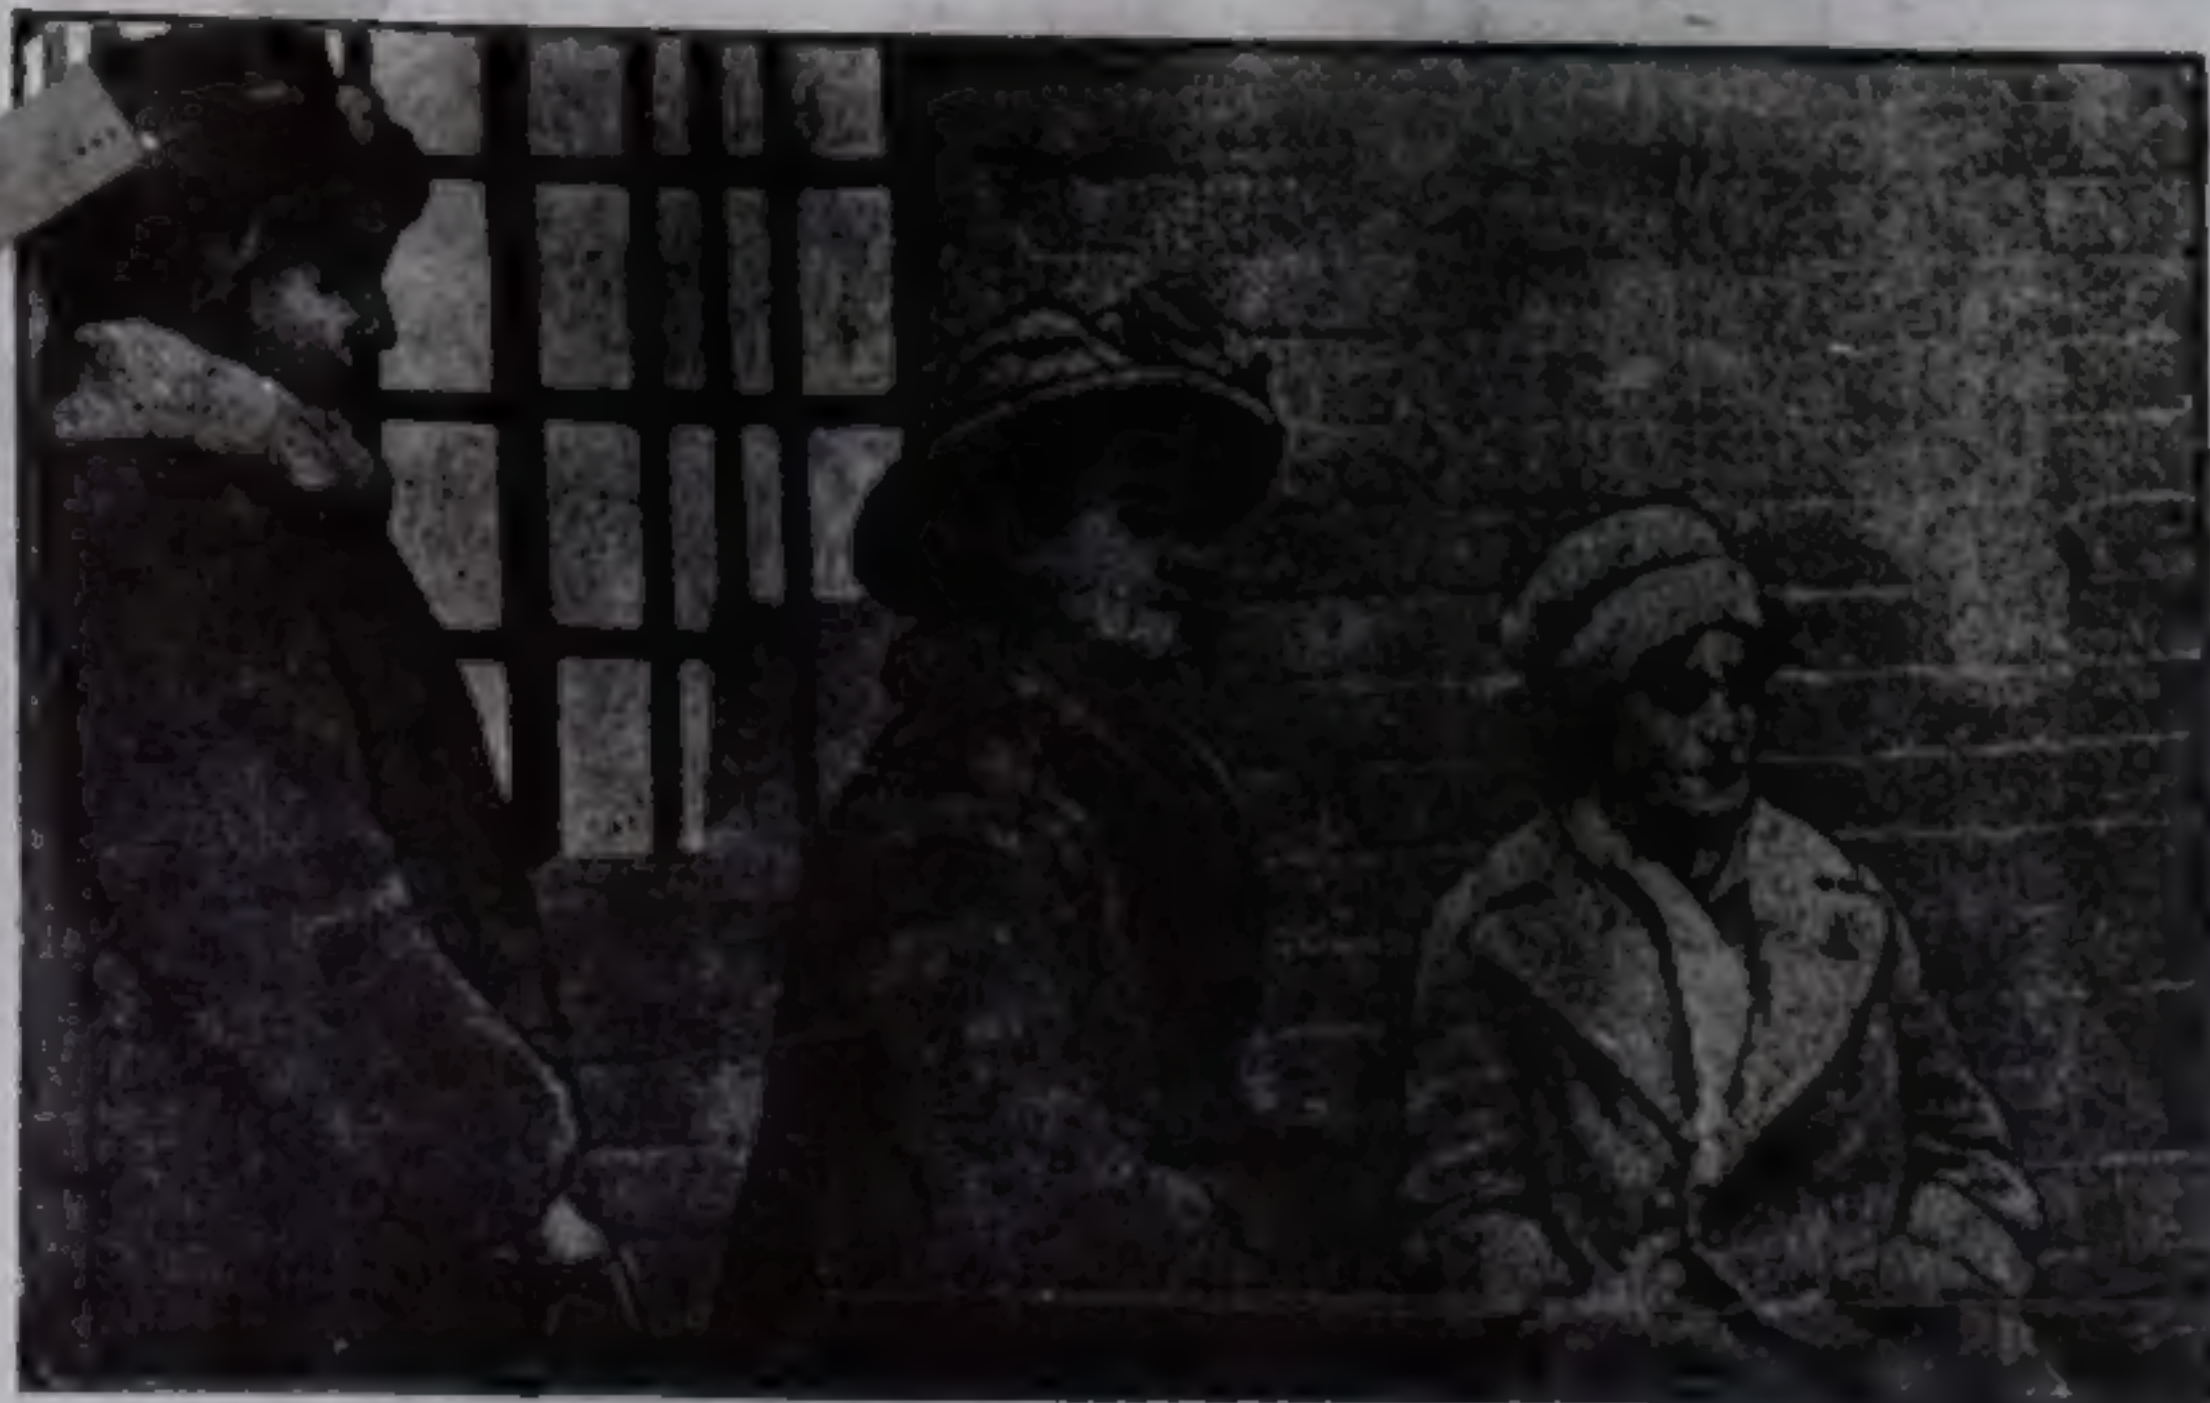

Taught School in Peel County
When quite a young man Mr. Brodie was sent to Toronto University to take a degree and in the fall of 1861, while on a visit to a friend of the family in Peel County, he was offered the position of teacher in a school and accepted it, and continued to teach in that school and in another one nearby until 1874 when he came to GRIMSBY.

The deceased gentleman was of a very studious nature and was conversant with some scientific matters and paid very little attention to matters of commerce, never seeking to make money or to become engaged in business. While teaching in the school he gave considerable attention to chemistry and although not on the regular school programme he gave regular school programmes of chemistry to the pupils in the school-room and try each week in the school-room of electricity, having a wire stretched in the school with batteries and instruments to illustrate work. Although very little was known about electricity at that time yet Mr. Brodie had an inkling of the power of electricity in the school, so that in these lines he was far advanced of his time and was a pupil's forerunner of the wonderful things that electricity has done for the world later on.

ADVERTISING PAYS

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Fair Association held in Toronto last week, Mr. Robt. J. Bushell, manager of Kingston fair, said when he took over the management his fair was spending $70 on advertising and there was a decrease of 100 per cent. Last year he spent $100 on advertising and the business of the fair showed an increase of 400 per cent. and there was a surplus.

THE MURDER PLOT AGAINST T. LLOYD-GEORGE AND HON. A. HENDERSON.

COUNCILLOR HILLIER DOES NOT PRACTICE WHAT HE PREACHES

At Least "Pro Bono Publico" Claims so—Writer to Independent Says That the Worthy Town Father has not Cleaned the Snow off his Sidewalk This Winter, and Asks why his Wife Does not do it if He has not the Time, the Same as he Wants the Soldiers Wives to do.

EVEN HIS PRIVATE WALK IS NOT CLEANED

The INDEPENDENT is in receipt of a letter from a telegrapher in which he has some very pointed things to say on that all absorbing topic "The Snow By-law." This gentleman evidently is not in favor of Councillor Hillier's by-law, especially as that gentleman has failed the present winter to keep his own sidewalk free from snow. The letter is as follows:

GRIMSBY, FEB. 16, 1917

Editor THE INDEPENDENT,

Dear Sir:

Would you be kind enough to find space in your valuable paper for the publication of this epistle, re the much discussed Snow By-law.

I have just finished reading the account of last Monday night's council meeting and paid special attention to your excellent report on the arguments pro and con that took place across the Council Board about the Snow By-law introduced by Councillor Hillier.

Now Sir, I am of the opinion that a Snow By-law of some kind could be and should be enforced in this town, but I believe that such By-law should be drawn to suit the existing conditions.

Councillor Hillier in introducing his By-law said that every person should clean their sidewalks of snow within 12 hours after it had ceased storming. Very good. But, why don't Councillor Hillier practice what he preaches?

If he wants the streets of GRIMSBY cleared free from snow after every storm, why does he not get the rest of the residents a good example by cleaning his own sidewalk?

I have occasion to walk along Oak St. almost every day, and I dare venture to say that the sidewalk in front of Councillor Hillier's residence on that street has not been cleaned three times this winter.

Right to-day there is at least three inches of snow packed down on top of the cement sidewalk running along in front of Councillor Hillier's house, and even his own private walk running up the hill from the street to his front door is not cleaned off at the time of writing.

If Councillor Hillier is such a great advocate of clean sidewalks why does he allow the snow to lay on his own walk? If he has not the time nor the inclination to clean it off, why then can't he have his wife clean it off the same as he wants the soldiers wives to do?

Hoping these few remarks will not take up too much of your valuable space, I remain,

Yours very truly,
PRO BONO PUBLICO.

News Of The Boy Scouts Grimsby Troop

Owing to the shortage of sleighs Saturday, the Boy Scouts were unable to cover the whole of the Village on their weekly collection of Red Cross paper. The collection this week will therefore be from the sections missed last week.

Any friends with a horse and sleigh that is not being used could greatly help the Red Cross by loaning some for a few hours Saturday morning to assist in collecting the waste paper. We have the workers, but we need the right to gather in the paper. Kindly notify Jas. A. Wray or C. E. Warren, care of Union Bank of Canada.

A record in attendance was reached last Scout night when 71 members answered the Roll Call. Thanks well answered for the interest taken in the Boy Scout movement in GRIMSBY.

H. G. & B. FILE PLANS FOR LAVATORY

At a meeting of the GRIMSBY Board of Health held last week, Mr. A. P. Henry was elected chairman for the ensuing year.

Plans of the new lavatories in the H. G. & B. Building, GRIMSBY, were laid before the members.

Under the plans the present waiting room is divided down the centre. The office will be a long narrow one, running the full length of the west side of the building, the east side will be the waiting room with ladies and gents toilet rooms at the back end.

No action was taken by the Board of Health.

A "LAY-IT-OVER" MEETING

Monday night's special session of the Town Council was certainly a "Lay It Over" meeting of the first order. Everything that came up for discussion was in the end laid over for further consideration.

The question of establishing a sinking fund for the Council (filed) brought up by Councillor Hillier, but after considerable discussion was laid over.

Prices and policies of Ford Fire trucks were laid before the Council by Mr. O'Neil, P. J. agent. The Council took no action on the matter.

Mr. O'Neil also laid before the Council a letter from the Fire Truck Association of the Province of Ontario.

C. W. HARRISON WANTS TO BE REINCARNATED AS A FARMER

We Would Advise Him to get in the Game Now While the Profits are big and not Wait for Reincarnation

SOME FARMERS LOSE

S. E. Mabey Pays $18.00 for a Four Weeks-old Calf the Same as he Used to buy ten Years ago for $4.00

At the Club Banquet on Friday night Mr. C. W. Harrison said that some people were of the belief that after we die we are reincarnated and come back to this earth in a different walk of life than what we were in when we left it.

He said that if there was such a thing as reincarnation that when he died and was reincarnated that he wished to be a farmer as he thought farming was an ideal vocation.

Our advice to Mr. Harrison is that he had better get in the farming game now and not wait for reincarnation, now is the time that the farming game is a paying one and it is quite possible that when "C. W." is reincarnated it will be such a profitable business and he will wish that he was a school teacher once more.

At present some farmers are in clover. Last week Mr. S. E. Mabey paid a farmer $17.50 for a four weeks-old calf and a few days before that paid $15.00 for a calf the same age. That's going some. It is only a few years ago when "Dad" bought all the calves in the country at a dollar a week. If a calf was four weeks old he paid $4.00 for it. Pork, beef and mutton have all jumped in price the same way.

Of course there are some farmers that claim they are not making a dollar on their farms on account of the poor crops last year, which compels them to pay high prices for feed for their cattle. They admit that they are getting a wonderfully big price for their cattle but claim that the high price of feed takes all the profit off.

And you are hoarse or husky, you will find the greatest relief after using Parke's Antiseptic Throat Pastilles. Allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth from time to time they promote a wonderfully big price for their cattle but claim that the high price of feed takes all the profit off.

When Mr. B. L. Haulch was transferred from Niagara Falls, to GRIMSBY by the Bell Telephone away back in the summer of 1906, he was welcomed to our midst by all, but no one knew at the time that Haulch was destined to be the father and creator of one of the greatest institutions in the town today.

When Mr. Haulch got squared away on his job he began to look around and he found that after working all day a boarding house was not just the most cheerful of places to spend the long hours of the winter evenings. He asked the boys what they did in the evenings and they told him nothing much. Well, he says that would pretty nearly drive me mad. In a few days he gathered a bunch of the boys together in a room and they began to sing and to play and to do things that were new to them. He was a wonderful man of organization, much along the same lines as the Chiffon Club of Niagara Falls.

The boys fell for the scheme hard and right then and there in the back room of a barber shop the GRIMSBY Bachelors Club sprang into existence.

They all went to work with a hearty goodwill in getting things started and let it be said right here that the men who drew up the by-laws and constitution of that club made a mighty fine job of it. Two rooms were secured in the Woolverton Block for a club room and the boys got away to a good start. The initiation fee was low and the dues could it have the membership of the high class which it has.

The tables looked most beautiful, as one gazed upon them, being most artistically decorated with large vases of roses and carnations as well as can be grown by the great O'Neil greenhouses and the sweet aroma from these great masses of flowers permeating to every corner of the large hall.

After the banqueters had partaken of a most excellent repast, cigars were passed around and everyone settled down for an hour's entertainment. The first toast called for was to the King and was responded to by the hearty singing of God Save the King, as only true Canadians can sing it.

President Randall then made a few brief remarks in which he reviewed the record of the club since its inception, of its trials and tribulations during the past ten years, of how on more than one occasion it was on the point of closing its doors, but how the heroic men behind the scenes had held it up and at last brought it out of the crisis and placed it safely on the crest of the wave of prosperity where it now rides today. He told of its early struggles for existence and how like a little acorn had grown to be a great oak in the community, towering up above all other organizations of its kind in the Niagara District like a great beacon light.

Mr. Randall, then referred briefly to the guests present, Mr. Harrison, Mr. Murphy, and Mr. Haulch, in whose brain the germ of formation of a club for GRIMSBY was given birth.

In closing his remarks President Randall called upon the three gentlemen and presented them each with an honorary life membership in the club and expressed the hope that we would see them often in and around the club.

Mr. Haulch told of how he had come to form the club and what his reasons were. He said that he had no idea when he started the ball rolling that it would eventually attain the size and magnitude that it had. He was pleased to be back in the old town again and would not have missed being present on this occasion for anything in the world.

Mr. Murphy and Mr. Harrison also spoke briefly along similar lines.

Councillor Marsh when called upon for a few remarks, turned his speech into a most little presentation when he presented to the club an enlarged picture of the Independent Press of GRIMSBY, taken over thirty years ago.

Reeve Fleming and Reeve Farwell also spoke.

The evening was brought to a pleasant close by the singing of God Save the King.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW CLUB QUARTERS WAS A GRAND AFFAIR

Over 125 Members and Guests Sit Down to an Excellent Spread After a Well Contested Pedro Match—Originators of Club Presented With Honorary Life-Membership—Trials and Tribulations of the Club in its Infancy Were Legion, but Heroic Work of the Men at the "Helm" Brought it Through the "Gale" and Placed it Upon the High Wave of Prosperity Which it now Enjoys.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE ORGANIZATION

Last Friday night, Feb. 16th, will go down in history as one of the greatest nights in the history of the old town. It was the formal opening of the new and spacious club rooms of the GRIMSBY Club, and the members to the number of over a hundred gathered there to help in the ceremony of giving their new club rooms a real start in life.

It was an event which club members will remember and comment upon for years to come. It was an event that showed in no small sense how great a concern or an organization can become if it has a foundation, that is well and truly laid.

Shortly after eight o'clock President Randall called the large assembly to order and announced that teams had been chosen for a Pedro match and endorsed match between the President and Vice-president. Playing was continued for over an hour and at the end of that time the Vice-President was found to be in the lead by over four hundred points.

Shortly after the Pedro match started Charles de Affairs Steve McCoy turned his staff of young "Live-wires" loose in the spacious billiard room and they soon made short work of transforming that large room into a billiard parlor into a beautifully decorated, well laid out banquet hall.

Shortly after ten o'clock, the ringing of a large brass bell, which is over three quarters of a century old, announced that all was ready in the banquet room and the large crowd moved thither. Over 125 covers were laid and this was found to be hardly sufficient to go round, but Mr. McCoy soon provided accommodation for the rest.

Seated at the head table with President W. F. Randall, who acted as toastmaster were C. W. Harrison, Mr. B. L. Haulch the first president and the organizer of the club, Mr. P. Murphy, one of the organizers, Jas. A. Livingston and Reeve Fleming of North GRIMSBY. At the "one end of the table sat the councillors of the Village and at the other and the Municipal Officials of the Township.

It was a grand sight to see that great gathering of men seated at these beautifully decorated tables partaking of the finest viands that this great and prosperous land of ours only can produce. The wealth and the brains of the great Niagara Fruit belt of every walk of life was represented there. The tables were arranged in long rows running away from the head table and as one stood at the end of each table and looked towards the other end he could not but think that the GRIMSBY Club was surely an organization of more than passing importance, or else how

Facts and Fancies

By Frank Fairborn

I do not know who is immediately responsible, but whoever is responsible is neglecting his duty in looking after the roads in North GRIMSBY.

There has been steady sleighing this winter and at the present time the roads in the township are fairly good except in spots where heavy drifts extend across the road spoiling for a short distance, what otherwise would be a good road.

But on a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, so it is with a road—it is no better than the worst spot in it.

It is small satisfaction to draw a load of hay along three miles of fairly good road only to upset it in a bad spot about twenty feet in length.

Take for instance, the spot in front of John Cole's farm on the mountain. The stone road is in fairly good shape all across the township, but a drift ten feet deep in front of Cole's has been a nuisance all winter. Hundreds of loads have upset at this spot during the last fifty years and loads have upset there the present winter, but the council and the road commissioner utterly ignore it.

One councillor lives within a quarter of a mile of this spot and another must have driven over it several times lately yet it still remains without the slightest attention.

Were I in the council, a wind-break would be built at this point instantly. A close board fence eight feet high and one hundred feet long would solve the problem that has cost the farmers on the mountain a vast amount of trouble, lost time and waste of horse flesh for the past half century.

This spot is only a sample of other spots here and there all over the township. Somebody should spend at least half a day twice a week in the winter time inspecting the roads and give prompt attention to such spots and upon his recommendation the cause of the nuisance at such spots should be removed or remedied.

What is the use of a Council if it does not look after the roads in the winter as well as the summer? In fact it is more important that the roads be looked after in the winter more so than in the summer. A great deal of hay, straw, wood and timber is moved in the winter and all kinds of these kinds are top-heavy and easily upset, and the danger of this in winter is increased ten-fold.

Imagine the loss, inconvenience and annoyance, it is to a farmer to upset a load of hay on a cold, stormy day, just on account of the neglect of either the council or some official. The councillors or official should be made pay personally ten dollars for every load of hay and five dollars for every load of wood or logs upset at such spots as I have mentioned.

In a drive of four or five miles on the mountain the other day I noticed where several loads had been upset and in each spot half an hour's intelligent work would have remedied the evil.

Along the Ridge road and even on the mountain road there are spots where there is great danger of loads upsetting and some of these spots are dangerous to life. Some of the councillors have never seen these spots (and never will) while other councillors drive over them and pay no heed to them.

What is everybody's business is nobody's business and that is why North GRIMSBY needs a first-class, up-to-date, intelligent, permanent, year-round road superintendent—a man whose business it is to keep the roads in good condition winter and summer and who can not side-step his duty by laying the blame on the council or committee or the wind or the weather or anybody or anything else.

The present road commissioner do not consider it their duty to keep a close supervision of the roads in the winter time and some of the roads they never see from Fall to Spring. In my opinion the roads should have a closer supervision in the winter than in the summer.

As a matter of fact good roads in the winter time are of more importance to the farmers than in the summer time. Summer is largely devoted to work on the farm. Winter is devoted to teaming of all kinds of commodities. The days of the summer-time council is past.

Some time ago I suggested to the Naval Service Department that the British Admiralty organize the merchant vessels of the Allies and send them out in fleets.

To this suggestion I have received three answers. One from the Minister of Militia stating that my suggestion had been sent to the Admiralty and the Naval Service stating that my suggestion had been sent to the Admiralty and another from the same Department stating that my suggestion had been laid before the Admiralty and that that body were already working on the same idea and that fleets were being organized.

I sincerely hope that this is so as I consider that it is the true and sure solution of the submarine peril.

I am fully convinced in my own mind that if the trade carrying and passenger vessels of all the Allies and the immediate neutrals had been organized into fleets two years ago that not one-tenth of the vessels that been sunk would have been sunk.

I have never read nor heard of one consorted vessel being sunk by submarines. The Canadian soldiers who have reached the front have all passed through the danger zone twice and the returned soldiers have passed through the danger zone four times and many of them six times. Once to England, then to France, then back to England, then to Canada. Besides trips back and forth between France and England on leave. We have no knowledge that any Canadian soldier was ever killed or drowned by a submarine.

What does this prove? It proves that it is possible to avoid to a great extent the power of the submarine. If no vessel travelled alone. If all vessels travelled in fleets, escorted by cruisers, destroyers and destroyers then the daily chronicle of lost vessels would cease.

But suppose there are not enough consorts available what then? Why let the vessel stay in port till there are consorts. Better a ship, cargo and crew on top of water in port than under water out at sea.

A young man who was arrested for obtaining money under false pretences was telling me his tale of woe. He said he had to go home and he had to go there and he had no money, so he borrowed money by cashing a cheque on a bank where he never had an account.

My reply was, "Young man there is just one way to avoid trouble such as you mention and that is, pay as you go, and if you can't pay don't go." My advice to a vessel in port is exactly the same. Get into a fleet before you go and if you can't get into a fleet don't go.

A fellow said to me once, "I've got to marry that girl and I've got to marry her right away, or I'll die. I can't live without her."

"Tut! Tut!" I replied, "supposing that girl died to-night. You couldn't marry her could you?" "No," he replied. "Or supposing you died to-night, you couldn't marry her," "No," he replied. "I could not." "Or supposing she ran off and married another man you couldn't marry her then could you?" "No," he replied. "You lost your life I couldn't."

"Well then," I said "don't try to make yourself believe that you have got to marry a certain girl on a certain day or you will die. There will always be another day and there will always be another girl."

So it is with the Captain of a steamship. He shouldn't let himself be believing that he has to sail on a certain day. There will always be another day and there will always be another way. A good captain is of much use and a ship at the bottom of the sea is not worth a counterweight.

WESTERN CANADA'S CROPS

Farmers Enabled to Pay The Original Cost of Their Land

ONE outstanding fact in connection with the wonderful crops that have been harvested in Western Canada is that the prices obtained for the crops have enabled farmers to pay the original cost of their land. Many instances have come to the notice of farmers who bought their land twelve months ago and with their first crop were enabled to pay the whole cost of the land and still have sufficient left to carry them through the year until another crop. Land that was bought for from $15 to $20 per acre has produced crops worth from $40 to $75. The prevailing high price of wheat, particularly, as an exceptional price even in Alberta, but on the whole with a wheat $2.25 per bushel it can readily be seen that it is an exceptionally profitable crop.

When it is known that many farmers produced an average of over 20 bushels of wheat to the acre it will be easily understood how they made such vast profits this year. These high averages were not confined to any one area but were reported from all over Alberta and many parts of Saskatchewan. The yield of C. S. Noble of an average of 54 bushels 23 pounds of wheat to the acre for 2,000 acres is a doubling a world's record for a tract that large. Mr. Noble a few days ago purchased another 2,000 acres a few miles west of the city of Calgary, and contemplates making it the best stock farm in the West. He never does things by halves and when it is known that he expects to purchase as well some of the best breeding stock obtainable it will be seen that the livestock industry of Alberta will receive no little impetus from Mr. Noble's entry into the business.

Stories are common of farmers who have more than paid the original cost of their land from the proceeds of this year's crop. Many of the automobile firms are unable to get sufficient cars to supply the demand, as practically every farmer is buying at least one of the smaller cars and many of them are purchasing the larger cars. One firm in Calgary sold $200,000 worth of cars during one month of this year, which was a record. Almost every small town now has its garage where all repairs can be made and new parts bought. This, and the general prosperity which is everywhere, has caused considerable business for carpenters and builders who have been unable to keep up with the amount of work ordered. A great many new elevators are being built this year and this of course has also had its effect on the building trade.

MAINLY FOR WOMEN

FORECAST FOR THE NEW SPRING SILHOUETTE

It has Stirred the Manufacturers and Produced Bargain Sales of Medieval Gowns. Paris Says That we are to Look Like a Melon, and not Like a Planked Shad. Figured Muslins as Foremost Fabrica. Indian Shawl Designs Copied on Them, Also Checkerboard Borders and Fine Stripes.

The advent of the barrel skirt into the fashion came as such an amazing movement, practically unheralded, that it has caused quite an upheaval in the world that makes clothes for quick selling.

So little is settled concerning this silhouette, that even the most expert manufacturers of ready-to-wear costume are a trifle in doubt as to whether or not their venture into the barrel silhouette will help them. The individual who buys a new costume as an experiment in fashion, not feeling sure whether it will give her enough service for the money she has invested, is perturbed over the experiment. She has a right to be, for every level-headed woman feels her self lacking in the essential qualities of judgment when she puts good money into the wrong thing. But her perturbation is only a ripple compared to the storm of doubt that assails the importer or the manufacturer who puts thousands of dollars into a new line or a new fabric. He may be swamped before the first month of the season is over, while the individual can go on wearing the costume or alter it to serve a more sedate phase of fashion.

When a new silhouette is launched as a regulation French opening, the importer and the apparel people in this country take up the new thing with a stout heart, for they have a great notion behind them and they know that there is always safety in numbers. If all the designers in Paris unite on a silhouette and all the importers in this country subscribe to it, there is left small doubt of its ultimate acceptance and there is a good chance for its success.

Working in doubt. It is when a new fashion appears over the horizon like a sailing ship and seems to be coming directly into the harbor of success, that the designer, the importer and the manufacturer are in doubt as to which way to work. If women like this new fashion it will be carried to instant success; if they do not like it, it will be doomed to failure in a fortnight; the money must, therefore, be risked and the idea must be put out with emphasis; yet the verdict remains with the public.

This is the situation at the present moment regarding the new silhouette, which goes under the common name of the barrel skirt. The latter garment is merely the form in which the new outline was launched, but this skirt was actually a foreshadowing of a more radical change in fashion. It was a skirt working in doubt and that the importers were loudly blowing their trumpet in its favor, because there was the feeling in every heart that a definite change was to come quickly and that no one must be caught napping.

There are many who say that the barrel skirt, or the new silhouette, will not go in this country; that it failed a year ago when Callot and Paquin introduced it, and that women are satisfied with the straight lines of the medieval and see no reason to change.

There is little common sense behind this argument, if one judges the future by the past, which is the only way to look at history in any phase of its making. Exactly the same argument was made against the full skirt, which came in at the precise hour of the great war. The same argument, even more strongly put, was advanced against the sheath skirt, and so contemptuous was the American attitude toward this garment that it was not even mentioned in the fashion magazines. Yet, when it was launched, it was accepted and there is a good chance for its success.

And yet, we all know the result. The hobble skirt, as it was called, became a commonplace of women's wardrobe. The full skirt was not only accepted, but was as much exaggerated as it was at the end of the eighteenth century. Designers who did not fall in line with the quick acceptance of the new styles found themselves out of patrons in a few weeks.

With these experiences in the immediate past, there is good reason to believe that the new silhouette has every chance of being rapidly taken up by the American women and a far cry said to the straight, tunicle skirts borrowed from the twelfth and fourteenth centuries.

Looking at the barrel skirt from this light, its importance can be readily estimated. It is the first garment to indicate an abrupt change in our outline, and it is on the changing of outline that all fashion is made. Nothing else really counts to the manufacturer, the importer or to the consumer. The silhouette is the key to the fashion of the day and it is the key to the success of the fashion.

This month sees all the openings of the new spring styles in Paris, but we do not get them for a month. In the meantime, the forecasting of what we may see and what we may accept is going on by cable and letter. The feeling is that so much in the way of new fashions was launched in Paris between Christmas and February, that the fashion has been stolen from the regular openings.

No one at the present moment expects anything more revolutionary than the barrel skirt, or what we may call the melon silhouette. There may be some surprise in store for the commercialists that has not yet developed, but those who are interested in the business of clothes think that the introduction of the new line from abroad to heels which will cause complicated cutting is quite enough.

There are very few cutters, no matter how well paid, who regard the advent of this silhouette with anything like pleasure. The only form of it that does not distress them is the one which owes its shaping to drapery and not to gore. The method of draping employed on the new barrel skirts is not graceful nor very effective, but it is an interesting compromise between the skirt we have had and the skirt we will have. When even an expert cutter tries to get the melon silhouette by shaping of number one gowns that draw the skirt in at the waist and hem and out at the knees, there is trouble, and plenty of it, ahead.

Here, as in nearly all of Leavitt's frocks, the line is long and extremely youthful. She fashions this lovely affair in pale blue chiffon velvet and embroidered in silver, thus offsetting the Mayan age line, the square neck and deep cuffs. For theatre, afternoon and reception wear this is appropriate and very fashionable, if becomingly worn.

ful nor very effective, but it is an interesting compromise between the skirt we have had and the skirt we will have. When even an expert cutter tries to get the melon silhouette by shaping of number one gowns that draw the skirt in at the waist and hem and out at the knees, there is trouble, and plenty of it, ahead.

Nearly a decade ago there was a kind of barrel skirt which grew too successful for the fastidious woman to continue to wear. It is possible that you remember this; the top of it was shaped like Dutch trousers and the fullness was gathered into a wide hem that hugged the ankles. The upper part was usually of a figured material, like fustian, and the lower part was of satin, usually black.

It is quite possible that this very type of skirt may return after the first models have had their little fling. The main thing is that the hem of the skirt will be narrow, what spring and summer, no matter what the upper part may turn out to be, none of the cables from Paris leaves one in doubt about this forecast. They say that every woman has come in for slender lines below the knees and the elimination of all flare at the hem. This presupposes an entirely new silhouette from the one that has prevailed for nearly three years. The woman who must be content with the old silhouette is to be pitied, for she can alter the frocks she has in the picture demanded by the new future, but no one offers her much encouragement on that score. It is not the intention of either Paris or the American sisters of apparel that women should be able to alter their old gowns into something new; France needs all the money she can get; America has more money to spend than any other country on this planet. And there you are.

The Incoming of Muslins. The fabric people are interested in launching old-fashioned muslins on a very modern public. The shop windows have been full of these fancy materials since the first day that the thermometer went to zero. Windows filled with the petries of wild animals surrounding a red-hot stove would have been more agreeable to look upon, but the only use that the merchants have for a calendar is to know when they can push it three months ahead.

There is no race of people who contribute to the feeling that life is short, as do the merchants. They live entirely in the future and compel you to do the same. They impress upon you the fact that there is no today, you all tomorrow; they hypnotize you into believing that it is spring, when you have just begun to enjoy winter, and when you at last realize that it is June, they convince you that it is summer autumn.

This theory is distinctly applicable to the manner in which muslins flood the country at a time when new fashions are spending their savings on new fur coats. It is good to know, however, what we must expect in the spring, and there is no doubt that muslins, striped, checked, striped and Paisley-d, will be in the forefront of new offerings.

The pear-shaped design which runs through the Cashmere shawls, and their imitation, the Paisley shawls, is a new and brilliant design on the Persian Tree of Life is another design copied from the embroidery of the Orient. This latter design first appeared last September, when it was used as a splendid splash of color on a gray satin gown made for Mary Garden to wear when she sang the title role of Griseldis. The embroidery was done in colored crystals, silk floss and bullion threads and occupied the lower half of the front of the skirt, rising from a ground-work of crystal embroidery.

When the In-lan shawls came into high fashion last September, as parts of gowns, they were accepted only by a few conservatives. The introduction was a dismal failure, although it had been attended by high hopes and much enthusiasm. The people who introduced the idea, both the makers and milliners, stood in the forefront of originality. For instance, Jenny of the Champs Elysees gave herself wholeheartedly to employing the In-lan shawl in various ways for her apparel; and yet, she who has had so few failures in her short, brilliant career, did not put it over.

Women who owned these shawls rushed to the shops and dressmakers with them and were perplexed because they could not sell them. The truth is, the market was overstocked; genuine cashmere shawls were too expensive to cut up into an experiment, but the shops and dressmakers over here found that they could import Indian shawls and all manner of Indian shawls from Great Britain, giving as little as $5 for some of them.

So the idea in itself failed, but its suggestiveness to fabric makers is now bearing fruit. Another instantly put the pear, the palm leaf and the Persian Tree into his new materials for spring and summer, and, therefore, we shall wear muslins that show these designs.

Another forecast for spring is that we shall be bordered as though we were a state on the map. Most of the new materials have ornate borders, and when the weavers supply them, the dressmaker will be the most of the artistry of this gown, and even frocks of satin and chiton will be framed in with bands of brilliant colors, to keep in the picture of the hour.

The woman graduates and undergraduates of Washington university are striving to form a woman's union.

Miss Sara Livingston, of Seattle, Wash., who ranks fifth in this year's list of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, among the women players, never wielded a racket until three years ago, when she first took up the game for her health.

THE SEVEN DEADLY SINS OF COURTSHIP

(By a Y.M.C.A. Official.)

- 1—Don't "mush." That is, don't hug and squeeze and kiss all the girls before marriage. You'll tire of it too soon when you are married.
- 2—Don't try to rush matters, or seem over-anxious. It does more harm than good if you call on her every night in the week.
- 3—Don't get her a ring she will be ashamed of. Strike an average somewhere between one she would turn in and one that can be seen a block.
- 4—Don't dangle other girls in front of your sweetheart. Just to show her there are others. Cut out the others and concentrate on one.
- 5—Don't be a parlor or porch decoration and nothing else. Take her to a theatre, buy her candy, bring her flowers, show you're alive.
- 6—Don't marry for money or on love at first sight, or if there is too much difference in your ages, or if you are in poor health.
- 7—Don't forget her Mother. If she's the right kind of girl she'll heed her Mother's advice and you will need a friend at that court.

A Woman's Problem

How to Feel Well During Middle Life Told by Three Women Who Learned from Experience.

The Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Read these letters:—

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I started the Change of Life five years ago. I always had a headache and backache with bearing down pains and I would have been very bad at times with dizzy spells and nervous feelings. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new person and am in better health and no more troubled with the aches and pains I had before I took your wonderful remedy. I recommend it to my friends for I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. MARGARET GRAMMA, 720 N. Ringgold St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Beverly, Mass.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for nervousness and I was going through the Change of Life. I found it very helpful and I have always spoken of it to other women who suffer as I did and have had them try it."—Mrs. GEORGE A. DUNHAM, 17 Roundy St., Beverly, Mass.

Eric, Pa.—"I was in poor health when the Change of Life started with me and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, or I think I should not have got over it as easy as I did. Even now I do not feel good I take the Compound now if I do not feel good in a short time. I will praise your remedies to every woman for it may help them as it has me."—Mrs. E. KESSELING, 351 East 34th St., Eric, Pa.

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving women's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Women may receive free and helpful advice by writing the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Such letters are received and answered by women only and held in strict confidence.

An old gentleman and his wife were standing before the pigsty looking at their only pig, when the old lady said: "Say, John, it be our silver wedding ter-morrow. Shall we kill the pig?" John replied, with a look of disgust: "What's the good of murdering the poor pig for what happened twenty-five years ago?"

For fifteen minutes after a pile of boxes had fallen on him when a shouting engine struck the box car which he was loading, R. C. "Mike" Godden, 31 Walnut Street south, Hamilton, a T. H. & B. freight trucker, went about his work. Then he fell on a box unconscious. The injured man was taken to the city hospital, where it was found by Dr. Cody, Sr., the attending physician, that he had been injured about the stomach.

Mr. Richard Palmer, of Toronto, Manager of White and Co., still has a warm spot in his heart for dear old GRIMSBY and for GRIMSBY boys. "Dick" was a visitor at the Officers Convalescent Home on Sunday last when he called in to see Lieut. Livingston. Before leaving "Dick" promised to send the boys up a supply of fruits and vegetables on Monday. They do say that one wagon would not carry the load he sent up.

Those who remember the good old days of hoop skirts and poke bonnets will renew their youth with Betty Charley, Mary Jane Seegood, and Priscilla Hopwell, while those of the present generation will thoroughly enjoy seeing how things were done fifty years ago. This entertainment has been given by organizations of different churches recently with great success, and the public are assured of an evening of solid enjoyment on March 9th, in Moore's Theatre.

DEATH OF CANON GROUT

We print in full a clipping from the Kingston, (Ont.) British Whig of Feb. 14th, giving in detail the life history and death of the late Canon GROUT of that City.

Canon GROUT was a brother of the late John H. GROUT and Miss Alice GROUT of GRIMSBY and an uncle of Mr. K. N. GROUT.

Death of Canon GROUT
A death which caused widespread regret occurred on Wednesday morning, when Canon George WILSON, registrar of the Diocese of Ontario, passed away at his residence on Wellington street, following an illness extending over two weeks. He had been confined to his room, suffering from heart trouble. On Tuesday he appeared to be somewhat better, but during the night he suffered another attack, passing away about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Deceased was in his eightieth year. He was born at GRIMSBY, Ont., and was the youngest son of the late Rev. George GROUT, rector of GRIMSBY. He was a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, and was ordained in 1860 by the late Bishop of Ontario, after which he held many charges in Eastern Ontario, including North Gower, Bydenham, Strickland, Carleton Place and Lennox.

In 1901 he was appointed clerical secretary and registrar of the Diocese of Ontario, which position he held up to the time of his death. He was canon of St. George's Cathedral.

The late Canon GROUT is survived by four sons, Frank GROUT, superior of the Bank of Toronto at Oakville, a Miss Alice GROUT, of GRIMSBY, a sister, Deceased, was a member of the Masonic Order and chaplain of the Ancient St. John's Lodge, Kingston.

The late Canon GROUT was a man of sterling qualities, and was beloved by all the churchmen in the diocese. He also had a wide circle of friends outside the diocese, and the announcement of his death was received by all with sincere regret.

Kind of heart, and ever ready to give a helping hand to every good cause, Canon GROUT endeared himself to every person who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Although well up in years he enjoyed good health generally and could be found at his work in the synod office every day. He was always present at meetings of the synod and the executive, and in his death the diocese suffers a great loss.

It is hoped that all the leading men and others interested in this great movement among the boys, will make a special effort to be present and lend a helping hand. It is expected that a large representation from Smithville, Beausville and Winona will be present.

A cordial invitation extended to all—Come.

"BOB" DENT WOUNDED

Mrs. Robert Dent, Paton St., received a cablegram last week from the casualty office, stating that her husband, Trooper Robert Dent, had been accidentally wounded while on service in France.

Trooper Dent, enlisted for overseas service with "Fighting D" Squadron, 2nd. Dragons in October, 1915 and was transferred on Dec. 4th to the Canadian Mounted Rifles, under Col. Broome. He left for overseas on a draft last spring and in England was transferred to France sometime during the summer.

Previous to enlisting he worked for Mrs. J. W. Vanlyke on her large farm west of the village.

Besides a wife he has three small children.

THE VALENTINE BALL A SUCCESS

The Valentine Ball conducted by Mr. Ed. Todd, held in Sniesinger's Hall, GRIMSBY, on Wednesday, Feb. 14th, was a very successful affair in spite of the cold weather and bad roads.

The attendance was not quite large enough for comfort and a most pleasant evening was spent.

In the GRIMSBY and Miss Boutwell of Smithville, won first, Mr. William Cowland of GRIMSBY and Miss Reid of Beausville won second; Mr. Platt of GRIMSBY and Miss Bouter of Smithville won third and Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs of Winona won fourth prize.

At the next ball, which will be held on Thursday evening, March 1st, there will be two sets of prizes for waiting. The first set will be competed for by all the prize winning gentlemen at the last two dances and they will have the privilege of choosing their partners from all the ladies present. The second set of prizes will be for the gentlemen who have not previously won a prize at these dances and they will have the opportunity of choosing their partners from all the ladies present, including the ladies competing in the first set. The prizes will be awarded for the best waiting couple.

Mr. Todd, requests, as a favor, that each of the ladies contribute what they can to the refreshments in order that the expense of buying may be cut down and thus leaving a larger amount to go to the Red Cross funds.

Ask each one of a company of fifty people to rise separately and remain standing for one minute. There will be fifty different records, varying from ten to sixty seconds. Ask ten workmen each to bring you a short and a long board, and you will get twenty different lengths of board. These illustrations are used by a railway man to emphasize the necessity of the element of uncertainty as to what constitutes a "long" or a "short" while by a locomotive. It is not right, he says to trust the safety of a trainload of passengers to a guess.

REMAINS OF JAS. BRODIE

Married in 1888

While teaching in the county of Peel he was married to his wife, Miss Mary Barrell, in 1888 and she survives him. In early life he took a keen interest in music and had an instrument in the school and taught the children how to sing and play and was himself quite a vocalist.

Received a Salary of $300.

When he came to GRIMSBY he became principal of the public school at a salary of five hundred dollars per year and this fact in a striking contrast with the high salaries of from twelve to fifteen hundred dollars per year that are paid to public school principals at the present time. About 1884 he gave up teaching in GRIMSBY and being of a mechanical turn of mind commenced to work for the Mechanic Institute Library and in 1896 he was appointed librarian and became a director on the Board and he held the position of librarian up to a few years ago when advancing age compelled him to resign as the multiplicity of duties involved in municipal and cemetery work became a burden to him.

As librarian he was a perfect encyclopedia of information and had a knowledge of almost every book, magazine, and paper in the library and could give an accurate fair idea of almost any book that was asked about.

A few years after accepting the position of librarian Mr. Brodie became clerk and treasurer of the village upon the resignation of Mr. E. M. Miel. This position he held until a year or two ago when advancing age compelled his retirement.

The Best County Auditor.

During the time that Mr. W. P. Clark was reeve of the village, Mr. Brodie received his first appointment as county auditor and this position he held for many years and was acknowledged by the county council and county officials to be one of the best auditors that ever worked for the county of Lincoln.

Laid Out Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

In 1907 the council decided to establish a public cemetery in GRIMSBY and the late Duncan Forbes and W. B. Vanlyke being on the cemetery committee along with Mr. Brodie laid out the beautiful grounds that GRIMSBY is so justly proud of and that are being used by people far and near as a resting place for their dead.

Following the establishment of the cemetery Mr. Brodie was appointed superintendent and so keen was his interest in the beautifying and maintenance of the cemetery that this work won him away to a great extent from his work in the public library and his hobby during the last days of his life was Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

Modest and Retiring.

Mr. James Brodie was a man of the most modest and retiring nature, never putting himself forward in any way but his studious nature and constant application to work made him a most valuable man in the town. He took up in GRIMSBY, namely, the public library, the clerk and treasurer, and the superintendency of the cemetery. He was an indefatigable worker in anything that he was interested in and never seemed to consider the compensation. Money had no attraction for him and he worked just as hard and just as steadily when he was receiving a mere pittance for his services as he did when he was getting a great deal higher salary. He did his work for the love of it and not for remuneration.

Not a Politician.

In politics he was a liberal but took very little interest in political affairs. In fact was not known as a politician at all. His mind did not run in the direction of fraternal societies. The Canadian Order of Foresters was probably the only society of which he was a member. He was probably the best read and best posted man in all lines of any man in GRIMSBY and his fund of mechanical and scientific knowledge was very large. He had been so long connected with municipal institutions that it seemed as if he had become a fixture and many of the older citizens found it hard after he had to drop out and give way to a new order of things. He will be greatly missed by the town and especially by those who frequented the cemetery and council chambers.

MASONS FEAST AND ENJOY THEMSELVES

C. T. Parrell, D.D.G.M., of GRIMSBY paid his official visit to Merritt Lodge, A.F. & A.M., on Monday night. The visitor highly congratulated the team on the degree worked. After work had been concluded the members adjourned to the Guild Hall, where a splendid supper was excellently served by the ladies of the church. Unfortunately the train bearing the District Deputy was very late delaying the whole program, and the hour was 12 midnight when the gathering was ready for supper. About sixty sat down to the festive board, including guests from Copstone Lodge and brothers from out of town. A. J. J. Brennan, W.M., was chairman. The distinguished visitor delivered an eloquent address and other members spoke briefly.

Entertainment was provided by Mr. Dore of Hamilton, with his clever songs and stories, and Mr. Yokum presided at the piano.—Welland Telegraph.

The British Acting Consul-General at Odessa reports a statement in the Russkoe Slovo (Moscow), to the effect that the Russian Minister of Agriculture, when introducing his departmental estimates in the Duma, stated that the lack of labor was making itself severely felt and that the use of implements and machinery for agricultural purposes in Russia must be largely extended. The Department of Agriculture, therefore, proposed to give large orders to American firms.

Congress appropriated $50,000 to purchase the trees and the land on which they stood, but $20,000 more was required to settle other claims. The $20,000 has been provided by the National Geographic Society for this purpose, and the entire tract will become the property of the Government.

Some of the trees thus acquired are believed to be 4,000 years old.

Beausville Express.—Rev. J. W. W. was a former Methodist minister in Beausville, passed away in Beausville on Tuesday, Feb. 13. Rev. W. was stationed in Beausville for three years previous to Rev. J. M. Hall, about a year ago he was taken ill and had been ailing ever since, although he was able to resume his duties part of the time. The past few weeks his condition was very critical and his death was not unexpected.
Besides his wife he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Edgar Jamieson of Ottawa.
The funeral will be held on Thursday, at 2.30 to St. Jude's Cemetery, Oakville.

Hamilton, Feb. 16.—Bishop Clark presided Wednesday at the regular meeting of the synod of Niagara. Much of the time of the meeting was devoted to the transaction of routine business, but in addition to this, new matters were discussed. Resolutions of condolence with reference to the following deaths in the diocese were adopted: Rev. Canon Motherwell, formerly of Stamford; Rev. George McQuillan of Grand Valley; the wife of Rev. Dr. Miller, St. Catharines; and the child of Rev. G. St.
Thompson, of Tapscott.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 16.—A very touching incident illustrative of the fact that authorities, though prepared for men are ready to break a rule to accommodate a poor widow is shown in the case of a Stamford woman. This lady recently wrote to King George telling him that she was ill and needed her son, who is fighting with the Canadian forces on the Somme. She implored his Majesty to send the boy home to her. A letter has been received from the King's Secretary asking that the matter be investigated and if the facts are as stated the soldier will be sent back to his mother.

Niagara Falls, Feb. 16.—Last night Coroner E. T. Kellam conducted an inquiry into the death of Pte.
Jol. Jones of the Welland Cavalry and Frontier Protective Force, who was accidentally killed Saturday while a machine gun was being demonstrated. Sergeant Joseph Frost, who was demonstrating the gun, before a class of ten soldiers stated that in order to have better freedom of action he had taken off his cartridge belt and laid it on the table beside the gun. This pouch contained some rounds of live ammunition and all frontier guards are equipped with and the theory was that one of the live shells must have dropped out of the pouch among the dummy shells on the table. Dummy shells are the color of silver, but the soldiers and his class were so evidently intent with the demonstration that no one noticed when Frost picked up a live shell and slipped it into the gun. Witness swore that Jones wasn't sitting in the line of fire, but must have leaned over in order to see better. The jury brought in a verdict in conformity with the theory advanced of the cartridge slipping out of the pouch.

Two well known Welland boys have been gassed for the Military Cross, according to a dispatch published in yesterday's papers. The recipients of this highly prized honor are Lt. Arthur H. McCormick, son of Lt.-Col. R. J. McCormick, formerly Industrial Commissioner of Welland, and Clarence E. Kidd, a former member of the Imperial Bank staff at Welland and Pt. Colborne, and one of the fastest hockey players ever seen in this district. Lt. McCormick also received his promotion to a captaincy, in recognition of his merit.

St. Catharines Standard.—The passing away of Stephen D. Furnishing, at the house of his son, William J.
Furnishing, Geneva Street, northwest corner of Grantham, Saturday morning, after a week's illness, will be remembered with deep regret by a wide circle of friends, as all who knew him, and his friends were numerous formed a great attachment to him, owing to his kind and considerable manner. The deceased was a prominent fruit grower and a great lover of birds. The beautiful English phoenix that are so plentiful in this section of the country are the offspring of the parent birds brought here from England by Mr. Furnishing. The deceased was born in Sussex England, and has been a resident of this district for forty years or more.

Nicholas Young, a farmer in Hamberstone township, residing near Dun City, came to a horrible death on Sunday night, says the Welland Telegraph. On Monday night a number of neighbors found his body almost nude partly burned and frozen stiff. His house had taken fire evidently from an overturned lamp. Evidently the man had been in bed or was about to get into bed. He was dressed only in his undershirt. The hip and face were badly burned. As he lived alone the real cause of the tragedy can only be surmised. He was at his father's on Sunday and drove home in the evening.
He put the horse in the barn, but did not unharness it. Deceased was 49 years old, and a son of Jacob Young.

Smithville Review.—Thomas P. Lally died at the city hospital, Hamilton, on Sunday, Feb. 11th, 1917, after a few days' illness from pneumonia.
Deceased was a native of Smithville, having been born in the village in the year 1847, and was consequently in his 70th year. He was educated at the Smithville public and high school and at St. Michael's College, Toronto.
The deceased spent the greater portion of his latter life in St. Paul, Minn., but about one year and a half ago he returned to his native village, and later secured a situation in Hamilton, where he remained until the time of his death. He leaves a widow, one son and one daughter, also seven sisters to mourn his death. The body was brought from Hamilton on Monday in charge of G. M. Hicks, the funeral taking place from the residence of his sisters, Smithville Wednesday morning, with interment at St. Martin's cemetery, Rev. Fr. Lonsdale officiated at High Mass and at the grave.

NEW WAR CERTIFICATES
The new War Savings Certificates which have been created by the Government to encourage thrift and economy and to give everyone an opportunity to "lend" in financing our war campaign, are now on sale at every bank and money order post office in Canada. The $25 certificate sells for $21.50, the $50 for $44, and the $100 for $86.
As an investment these certificates offer many attractive features—first of which are the absolute security and the excellent interest rates. For every $25 you lend to the Government, $25 will be returned at the end of three years.
There are two other features which are especially interesting to small investors. First, the certificates may be cashed at any time, if the holder so desires, without penalty, and second, each certificate is registered, so that the holder's name and the amount of the certificate is recorded in the Government's records, and the holder is entitled to receive a certificate of ownership from the Government.

Why We Want Church Union in the Prairie Provinces

By President WALTER MURRAY, University of Saskatchewan

In a municipality in Saskatchewan settled fully twelve years ago there are about 5,000 people. The main line of the Canadian Northern Railway runs through it. In this municipality there are 33 English-speaking ratepayers, and about 1,000 Community Denominations. The religious needs of 4,000 people are ministered to by one Polish priest, one Greek Catholic and a student missionary for a portion of the summer. Beyond the borders of the municipality are two towns with a liberal supply of clergymen.

In the prairie provinces there are at least 150,000 Rutherfords. They are looked after by approximately thirty United States, a half dozen Greek Catholics, about a dozen Protestant ministers and students—a total of possibly fifty. One shepherd to 3,000, on the average. As a matter of fact, there are large districts unvisited by priest or parson.

The immigrants to Western Canada bring with them the memory of their national religion. There are Norwegian Lutheran, Swedish Lutheran and two German Lutheran religious organizations, each distinct and separate. There are German Catholics, French Catholics, Polish Catholics, Rutherfords, United Catholics, Greek Orthodox Catholics. The fragments uprooted from their national soil and cast upon Canadian shores are left many of them unsecured for the National Church in Europe. What more natural than that they should look to the national churches in Canada or remain neglected. There are, I have been told, groups of the finest people from Europe who rarely see a clergyman other than twice or thrice a year. It is not time for the churches in Canada that are national in spirit (if not in organization and name) to get together and work as one for the religious upbuilding of the new nation in Canada? To these European peoples religion is a national necessity.

One person in every three in Western Canada has a mother tongue other than English. In large districts English is as little known as it is in Austria.

A Presbyterian Superintendent reports one hundred and fifty mission fields closed for lack of men and means; while a Presbyterian Principal wrote that in other Presbyterian mission fields the average number of communicants in a station is about four. The Methodist stations have probably no more. Union in Alberta would save between $15,000 and $20,000 a year, a quarter of that Synod's contribution to the schemes of the Church. In Ontario four Protestant ministers shepherd 325 people and draw $1,250 from mission funds. In Lemberg 363 people are divided into 6 denominations.

Co-operation by denomination worked well where there were few or no people. In Northwestern Alberta the Presbyterians went in with one railway line, the Methodists with another. All was harmonious until crowds settled in the towns. Then co-operation ceased and when the hope of Union became faint, it failed.

Co-operation by withdrawal worked for a time in older Saskatchewan. The two clergymen lived in the town, one preached there in the morning and went into the north country for the evening; the other was in the south country for the morning and preached in town in the evening. It worked better than competition over the same fields.

In oldest Manitoba and Saskatchewan Union alone will reduce the cost. The fields overlap so much, "20% of the mission fields overlap," "20% of districts have two churches want Union." A score of strictly Union congregations have been formed, and unless Union comes soon they will develop into a new church and will sweep Western Canada. There are also two more scores which were formed under or in one of the two churches by the two people who prefer Union even at the cost of withdrawing from their old church.

The people of the prairies have been forced by economic necessity, by the loneliness of large spaces to co-operate in marketing and buying. Witness the Co-operative Elevator Co., the largest grain handling company in the world. The little towns have lived and thrived only by developing a community spirit and a community pride. Racial differences have intensified the desire of compatriots to get together.

Racial difficulties, the co-operative spirit, the community interest are driving together all who prize religion and patriotism.

Forty Thousand Investors Hold Canadian Pacific Stock

Canadian Holders Now Total 6,531, a Gain of 161 Per Cent. in Five Years—United States Acquired More Shares Last Year—Statement Furnished by Baron Shaughtnessy.

In all countries	24,000	27,000	40,468	40,237
In Canada	2,500	3,400	5,138	5,321

France	9%	8%	5.43%	5.32%
Other countries	2%	2%	2.13%	2.83%

How the common stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway is held has always been an interesting study. During the past few years there has been considerable change in the grouping of the holders. Baron Shaughtnessy, president of the railroad company, has on various occasions furnished The Morning Times with figures showing in what countries the stock is held and to what extent, and also an analysis of the shareholders' list as it stood on October 1st, 1914. This is compared with previous analyses in the above table.

It must be borne in mind, in analyzing the figures that the capital stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been increased several times during the period under review as follows: In November, 1909, when $30,000,000 of additional stock was allotted at 125, the amount of stock outstanding was $180,000,000. That would be the amount of stock held by the 24,000 shareholders in January 1911. A further block of $18,000,000 was allotted in January, 1912 at 150; $2,000,000 was sold during 1912 at a premium of $2.50 per share; and $50,000,000 was allotted at 175 in January, 1913. In June, 1913, August, 1913, and at the present time, therefore, the $500,000,000 of stock has been issued.

In a little more than four years the number of shareholders had increased to 40,468, or over 51 per cent. Last year there was a small decrease in the number. In the past few years a remarkable change has occurred in the number of holders. Whereas three years ago there were 27,000 holders of the common stock, there were in 1915 40,468, an increase of 13,468, or 49 per cent. Last year, the number dropped to 40,237, but still a good record. These figures seem to indicate that the so-called small investor has been in the market during the past three years getting Canadian Pacific Railway stock, the large holders having been sold to some extent and picked up by small investors. The increase in the number of holders was probably made to a large degree during the latter part of 1915, by those who had faith in the strength of the company and the maintenance of the 10 per cent. dividend. This faith was rewarded. The number of Canadian holders has increased over 101 per cent. in the last four years, and now stands at 5,321. This is an excellent showing for a country which has done more borrowing than investing.

The number of holders in Great Britain in 1915 was larger than two years previously, but smaller than in 1911. Great Britain probably sold to the United States last year. The French and German holdings have dropped considerably. The volume of shares held by United States investors is not very large, only 12.13 per cent. in 1915, a record which has been held by Canada, which then held 12.64 per cent. of the total. The United States total has been increased most likely by purchases last year from Great Britain.

The figures in regard to Germany are of unusual interest. In January 1911, and June, 1913, German holdings were 10 per cent. This figure has been reduced now to 5.34 per cent.

District Summary

Niagara Falls Patriotic Fund now totals $27,000.

Thorold is having a lot of trouble with its waterworks system.

Members of Niagara Falls Police Force have been given a raise in salary.

An early morning blaze done $20,000 damage in St. Catharines on Wednesday last when it wiped out the plant of the Meyercoed Sign Co. and the Muller-Flower Electric Co.

Niagara Falls Review.—In 1917 Niagara Falls will contribute to the Canadian Patriotic Fund $5.20 per capita, against $5.50 for 1916 and against Toronto's $6.75.

At Ajmer, Quebec, a man was nominated for the Council, who was ill, and the day before the election, he died. On the day of election he received a majority of votes, so that a bye-election must be held.

Beausville Express.—Many friends will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. E. R. Howell, which occurred on Tuesday afternoon at the Hamilton Hospital. Mrs. Howell had been in poor health for the past few weeks, but the news of her death was quite unexpected in this community. The funeral will take place from her daughter's residence 19 Grant Ave. Hamilton on Thursday at 2 p.m.

A Calgary dispatch, Feb. 8, says: "Brig.-Gen. Crulshank, officer commanding Military District 12, announced today that he was resigning his post to become historian to the Militia Department at Ottawa. He will be succeeded here by Lieut.-Col. George Macdonald, formerly in command of the 12th Mounted Rifles, and lately back from overseas." General Crulshank is widely known throughout Welland County. He is a former resident of Port Erie and an ex-warden of Welland County.

The Welland Town Council has passed a resolution and will send delegates to oppose the T. H. & L. to build lines from Port Maitland to Port Colborne. The proposed lines will parallel the Hydro Radial Line, which is soon to be built. The electric railway being constructed under bonds issued by the municipalities through which it passes, it is considered that the people should stop further competition of their own.

Beausville Express.—Rev. J. W. Wasa, a former Methodist minister in Beausville, passed away in Beausville on Tuesday, Feb. 13. Rev. Wasa was stationed in Beausville for three years previous to Rev. J. M. Hall. About a year ago he was taken ill and had been ailing ever since, although he was able to resume his duties part of the time. The past few weeks his condition was very critical and his death was not unexpected. Besides his wife he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Edgar Jamieson of Ottawa. The funeral will be held on Thursday at 2 p.m. at St. Jude's Cemetery, Oakville.

Hamilton, Feb. 14.—Bishop Clark presided Wednesday at the regular meeting of the standing committee of the Synod of Niagara. Much of the time of the meeting was devoted to the transaction of routine business, but in addition to this, new matters were discussed. Resolutions of condolence with reference to the following deaths in the diocese were adopted: Rev. Canon Motherwick, formerly of Stamford; Rev. George Macquillan to Grand Valley; the wife of Rev. Dr. Miller, St. Catharines; and the child of Rev. G. M. Thompson, of Tapscott.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 14.—A very touching incident illustrative of the fact that authorities, though pressed for men, are ready to break a rule to accommodate a poor widow is shown in the case of a Stamford woman. This lady recently wrote to King George telling him that she was ill and needed her son, who is fighting with the Canadian forces on the Somme. She implored his Majesty to send the boy home to her. A letter has been received from the King's Secretary asking that the matter be investigated and if the facts are as stated the soldier will be sent home to his mother.

Niagara Falls, Feb. 14.—Last night Coroner E. T. Kellam conducted an inquiry into the death of Pte. J. Jones of the Welland Canal and Frontier Protective Force, who was accidentally killed Saturday while a machine gun was being demonstrated. Sergeant Joseph Frost, who was demonstrating the gun, before a class of ten soldiers stated that in order to have better freedom of action he had taken off his cartridge belt and laid it on the table beside the gun. This pouch contained some rounds of live ammunition as well as frontier guards are equipped with and the theory was that one of the live shells must have dropped out of the pouch among the dummy shells on the table. Dummy shells are the color of silver, but the sergeant and his class were so evidently intent with the demonstration that no one noticed when Frost picked up a live shell and slipped it into the gun. Witness swore that Jones wasn't sitting in the line of fire, but must have leaned over in order to see better. The jury brought in a verdict in conformity with the theory advanced of the cartridge slipping out of the pouch.

Two well known Welland boys have been gazetted for the Military Cross, according to a despatch published in yesterday's papers. The recipients of this highly prized honor are Lt. Arthur H. McCormick, son of Lt.-Col. H. J. McCormick, formerly industrial commissioner of Welland, and Clarence E. Kidd, a former member of the Imperial Bank staff at Welland and Ft. Colborne, and one of the fastest hockey players ever seen in this district. Lt. McCormick also received his promotion to a captaincy, in recognition of his merit.

St. Catharines Standard.—The passing away of Stephen D. Fuminger, at the home of his son, William J. Fuminger, Geneva Street north, Township of Grantham, Saturday morning, after a week's illness, will be learned with deep regret by a wide circle of friends, as all who knew him, and his friends were numerous, formed a great attachment to him, owing to his kind and considerable manner. The deceased was a prominent fruit grower and a great lover of birds. The beautiful English pheasants that are so plentiful in this section of the country are the offspring of the parent birds brought here from England by Mr. Fuminger. The deceased was born in Sussex, England, and has been a resident of this district for forty years or more.

Nicholas Young, a farmer in Hamberstone township, residing near Dain City, came to a horrible death on Sunday night, says the Welland Telegraph. On Monday night a number of neighbors found his body almost nude partly burned and frozen stiff. His house had taken fire evidently from an overturned lamp. Evidently the man had been in bed or was about to get into bed. He was dressed only in his undershirt. The hip and side and face were badly burned. As he lived alone the real cause of the tragedy can only be surmised. He was at his father's on Sunday and drove home in the evening. He put the horse in the barn, but did not unharms it. Deceased was 49 years old, and a son of Jacob Young.
